

The Sierra Alligator Lizard is a protected Species in Nevada. It may well exist in certain areas of Storey County. If anyone were to see one, they should document it with a picture and as exact a location as possible and report it to the Natural Heritage Program. It should not be disturbed or captured.

